JUNIOR PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

The Principals, recognizing the great advantage to little children of being trained under their supervision for the various classes of the Primary Department, have organized such a preparatory school. It will be put in the hands of a hady of long and successful experience in teaching little children; and, though in the same building, will be so far detached that the children need not come in contact with the rest of the school; nor will they be confined more than three and a half or four hours per day. Children thus trained from the beginning in our methods of instruction will have very great advantages—receiving, as they will do, the closest personal attention both from their instructor and from the Principal, and at the same charge that the primary schools make—viz. $35 per session.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, September 17, 1879. Richmond excursionists homeward bound from Cincinnati have been passing here for several days. The last of them went down this morning, I believe. The party had many vexatious delays going out, but upon the whole enjoyed themselves very well. They were in for fun, and had it.

Of Cincinnati-that city of magnificent suburbs and cheap beer, of splendid business blocks and odors of pork-they speak in enthusiastic terms. It is undoubtedly the American Paris in gaiety, if not in grandeur-also in non-observance of the Sabbath. You will hear plenty of the excursionists talking on the streets, and the majority of those who were at Cincinnati on Sunday will dwell chiefly on the fact that on Sunday many of the manufactories, hundreds of stores, and all the saloons and great concert gardens were open.

There are a number of persons here now The next ression of this SCHOOL opens SEP-TEMBER 25, 1879. For particulars address GENERAL or MRS. RANSOM, se 11-t0c1 Huguenot Springs. Va. who desire to go on to the Cincinnati Exposition, but as there is only three feet six inches of water in the Obio they are afraid of tedious delays on the boat, which now rarely makes the trip from Huntington to Cincinnati in less than twenty-four hours. In lieu of the Exposition, with all its wonders of man's handiwork, a few wise people propose a visit to the Luray cave, there to feast their eyes upon those mavels of nature about which we have all heard a little from the newspapers and much from Mr. Cuthbert. Last night we had a mild attack of the tableaux. The stage was laid off in the amination. dining-room, so that the folding-doors between it and the parlor could be used in place of a drop-curtain. The audience was in the parlor. The entertainment was pleasant and successful. Some of the scenes brought tears to the eyes of a number of sentimental people, including the Dispatch man and a Richmonder with a button-hole bouquet and red bandanna. A scene of terderest pathos was provided in "Joan at the Steak." This item on the programme awakened thoughts of blood-curdling martyrdom. A solemn bush came over the assemblaga. The doors were opened. There in the pallid light stood a young lady, knife and fork in hand, a beelsteak in her plate, and despair written on her face! As soon as the joke was seen there wis immense applause. There was nothing personal in the illustration. All boarders, in all quarters of the world, coming from homes humble or high, in all sorts of botels and cating-houses, complain of the beefsteaks. It is about once or twice a year that a lucky man moving about over this planet gets a tolerably good one; but the complaint is regular. Trains may be late (as sometimes they are on this road), letters may fail, or the most popular candidates (among stay-athomes) be defeated at the primary, but beefsteak remains forever a national topic. It is a hard subject for discussion and diges-

> [Special dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.] The Coming Session of the Supremo Court-Important Political Cases to be Decided. Washington, September 18 .- The annual term of the Supreme Court of the United States commences on the 13th of October. On the second day, by special assignment, there will be taken up for hearing the celepable of doing the slightest injury to the most brated Virginia case, involving the right of colored men to be tried by juries of their own color. As is known, this case presents most important features, involving the constitutionality of the reconstruction the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. legislation of Congress. Mr. Justice Strong has set for a hearing on the same day before the full bench the case of the Ohio election judge, involving the constitutionality of the election laws of Congress. Chief-Justice Waite has also set the 14th day of October for the hearing of the habeus corpus cases of the Maryland election judges. There is now the prospect that before the ensuing term of the court has terminated there will be an authoritative decision as to the validity of most if not all of the reconstruction legislation which sits so heavily on a large portion of the country, and which it is no longer concealed works only for the benefit of party, and not for the whole people. It has been an open secret that the Supreme Court has avoided, as far as was possible, rendering opinions on the political legislation of Congress, but the members of that tribunal have at last doubtless realized that the point must be met, sooner or later. It is better that the question should be disposed of at this time, and in advance of the next presidential election, as it will remove the source of unbounded dissension and bitterness. The Virginia case, by reason of the attitude of Judge Rives of the United States District Court, embraces points of Federal judiciary not only to imprison State judges for carrying out State laws, but also the Governors of the States for executing the laws, and members of the Legislature for voting for those laws.

THE LATE COWHIDING CASE-A SENSA-TION IN COURT .- The continued case of the Commonwealth vs. Mrs. C. A. Smith, for assaulting Mrs. Sarah M. Loops with a cowiide, came up yesterday morning in the Police Court-Acting Police-Justice Crutchfield presiding. From the number of good-LATION OF ALL THE OTHER DAILY NEWS. looking and well-dressed young ladies who were present as witnesses a stranger would very naturally bave supposed that a case of unusual interest was being tried. The prosecutrix, Mrs. Loops, was a brunette. with a sad but very sweet face; while the accused, Mrs. Smith, was a lady many years her senior, with the snows of some tifty-five winters on her brow.

The facts proved were briefly as follows: Mrs. Loops, who, though quite youthful apparently not over twenty-one), is not living with her husband, and has been supporting herself and child by working at Allen's tobacco-fuctory, on Franklin street. Miss Smith, a daughter of the accused, also works there. A few days since Miss Smith stated to one of the young-lady employes that she was going to walk home with Mrs. Loops that evening, whereupon Mrs. Loops sent word to Miss Smith that she had better go with her (Mrs. Loops's) husband, as she had before gone with him to the Red Men's pic-nic, &c. Miss Smith hearing this, when she went home at night informed her mother of it, but stated to her mother that Mrs. Loops had applied very opprobrious and insulting terms to her. Her mother, believing the statement of her daughter, went down to Allen's factory on the mornng of the 16th and called for Mrs. Loops, and as soon as she made her appearance used the cowhide, which she had carried for he purpose, on the person of Mrs. Loops, leaving marks on her face, arms, &c.

Some four or five young ladies were introduced as witnesses, by Miss Smith as to the abusive language attributed by her to Mrs. Loops, but they all failed to corroborate her, denying having heard anything that was said. Mr. Bidgood and several other gentlemen of the factory heard the assault, and as Miss Smith had no one to prove that Mrs. Loops used one improper pithet on the occasion the plea of justification or extenuation failed, and the Justice, after ascertaining that Mrs. Smith was unable to pay a heavier tine, fined Mrs. Smith $10, with the remark that her age only saved her from imprisonment. Mrs. Loops stated in her evidence that Mrs. Smith first required ber to retract what she had said about her daughter, and before she had time to speak went to work with the cowhide.

Both Miss Smith and Mrs. Loops are quite pretty. Miss Smith admitted in the cross-examination that Mr. Loops had cscorted her sister and herself in a buggy to the Red Men's pic-nic, some eight miles from the city, where there was a dance, but that she did not dance with him. Mrs. Loops also stated that Mr. Loops had acted the cavalier to Miss Smith on other occasions, but this Miss Smith denied. Mrs. Loops, the prosecutrix, was represented by Mr. A. Moise, Jr., and the necused by Mr. H. A. Atkinson, Jr. The court-house was crowded during the ex-

MONUMENTAL CHURCH IMPROVEMENTS-SERVICE.-The Monumental church has been closed for some weeks on account of the alterations that have been made to the galleries and the absence of the pastor. The pastor has now returned, and will hold divine service on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the lecture-room. The main audienceroom of the church has not yet been completed, but will be in a few days. The galleries have been so altered and lowered as to enable persons sitting in that part of the church to see and hear the minister with ease. The church will probably be completed by Sunday week.

COLORED READJUSTERS' ORGAN.-It is rumored that the Criterion, a newspaper published in this city by the late Colored State Convention, is to appear as an organ for the Readjusters. W. C. Roane, the colored lawyer, has been invited to take charge of its editorial department, but as Mr. Roane has not heretofore been considered one of that party it is likely that he will positively refuse the offer.

DROWNED IN THE DOCK .- The body of a colored sailor named Jack Overton, from North Carolina, was found in the dock near Twenty-fifth street yesterday. Overton fell asleep while intoxicated on Tuesday night, while lying on a barge in the dock, and was not heard of until his body was found yesterday. Coroner Taylor was notified. No inquest-accidental drowning.

THE LATE INCENDIARY FIRE. The buildings burned yesterday morning were owned by John Clendening, Matt. Doran, and Mrs. Rogers. The fire originated in Mr. Clendening's house, which was in process of erection and not entirely completed. The loss, as has already been stated, was about $650, upon which there is no insurance.
